Mouth makeover transforms troubled star

THEN

SHE may look haggard beyond her 25 years, but Lindsay Lohan has one reason to smile - she's had a dental makeover that cost her at least $20,000.

Lindsay's teeth appeared sadly neglected last year in photos that showed them stained and rotting.

"This is what someone looks like when they haven't been to the dentist for a long time and they just haven't taken care of themselves," said Hollywood dentist Dr. Naz Tofigh at the time.

But now, the Mean Girl's pearly whites have been restored - and she's got her megawatt smile back!

Dr. Michael Kosdon, a leading cosmetic dentist who has celebrity clients both in New York and Beverly Hills, says, "She looks fabulous. She's had porcelain veneers placed over her teeth at a cost of $2,000 per tooth."

But poor dental hygiene hasn't been the only problem for Lohan, whose party-girl lifestyle seems to have taken a toll on her rapidly aging face.

She recently moved into the Chateau Marmont Hotel in West Hollywood after a trespasser was arrested for refusing to leave her property in Venice, Calif.

Really scared

Police had to be called after the strange man knocked on the door of her $2.5 million, 3,000-square-foot home.

"Lindsay was really scared after that and knew immediately that she wanted to move," says a source.

But another insider cautions that the actress needs to be "careful. Lindsay has done a ton of partying at the Chateau.

"If she's really turning her life around like she said she is, then she should find someplace stable."
